Bryan has a fresh, new issue; it is Blackwell.

"Strongheart" won fair lady and then lunched her.

Hardwick is said to be all primed to vote for Bryan.

There is still enough water in Lake Champlain to have those all too frequent drowning accidents.

The university of Vermont has opened its 108th year with 107 freshmen; there ought to be another "freshie" to make things meet.

The small increase of 166 polls in Vermont last year doesn't indicate that Vermont's population is running so fast that it is skipping all but the high places.

As long as the actress Maud Adams isn't married, she can't figure as defendant in a divorce suit like so many of her sisters; whereas the public heaves a sigh of relief.

Senator Foraker would like to get a copy of this week's Waterbury Record, which has this condensation, "Poor Foraker. We hope the worst has been told." The worst is certainly bad enough.

Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for president, modestly admits that he is not fitted for president, "either by temperament or by taste." Such modesty should not go entirely unrewarded.

It would be rather surprising if Dartmouth college cannot find an alumnus for president of the institution, so long as they have no difficulty in finding an alumnus for head coach of the foot ball eleven.

It is reassuring to be told that although the Junction House at White River housed 1,100 people Wednesday night, no one really had to sleep on the floor. They must have put them on the rafters.

Tt St. Johnsbury Republican notes that the Caledonia county fair did not succeed in bringing rain and suggests that another campaigning be called at Lyndonville in hopes that the drought may be broken thereby. Anything to bring rain.

Republican newspaper like the New York Sun, which is supposed to be, and which have eulogized Foraker against the present administration, are now somewhat on the fence; they don't know whether to stand up for him or kick him down cellar. The chances are in favor of the big kick.

Now in gallops Gompers on a pure white steed and does a dashing barback stunt, which consists of charging Van Cleave with trying to bribe him (Gompers). Gompers' stunt received due notice. The political circus will have to put on another ring if the performers continue to multiply.

CARELESSNESS OF WORKMEN.

The frequency with which these fatal accidents are happening in Barre, both in the quarries and in the granite cutting plants, raises the question as to how many of them might have been avoided. Some are due, no doubt, to defective machinery and to the lack of proper protection of the gearing of the machinery, about which the men are obliged to work. That is something which their employers themselves are responsible for and something which should not be allowed to continue. In some states there is a state law which requires, for instance, the proper covering of machinery so that the clothing of the workmen cannot be drawn into the wheels or belting. There ought to be a similar law in Vermont which shall not only forbid the introduction of more machinery which is defective in this respect, but which shall require an inspection of the machinery already installed, with a view to making the necessary changes. This much could be done to protect the lives of the workmen who are employed in the manufacturing plants.

But there is another cause of these fatalities, which we cannot legislate against; that is the carelessness of the individual workers themselves. There is no doubt that constant acquaintance with the dangers of a particular work renders many people less sensible of the liability which they run; and they are, therefore, apt to minimize the danger. Very many of the accidents here recorded might have been avoided had the workmen themselves used a rational degree of caution. Because they have done this or that job before without disastrous outcome, they figure that they can do it again. So they step voluntarily into danger, tempting fate day after day, in spite of the cautioning of their fellow-workmen or by their employers. Sooner or later will come the time when, least suspecting, they shall pay for their carelessness. Then the widows and the fatherless suffer.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Talk about a "still hunt" to swoop the United States senatorship from ex-Gov. Carroll S. Page. Two thousand eyes would detect the first rustle in the bushes and there would be a Paul Revere midnight ride to Hyde Park that would so far discomfit the old story that it would for very shame be expunged from the youth's history of the Revolutionary war. Besides that, the genial ex-governor looks under the bed every night before retiring to innocent repose.—Northfield News.

The Champlain Tercentenary.

We print elsewhere today the essential portion of the report of the Champlain Tercentenary commission and bespeak for it a careful reading. As will be seen, New York state has appropriated $300,000 for the purpose of carrying on its end of the celebration, and an effort will be made at the next session of the New York legislature for an additional $100,000. There is also prospect of receiving from the United States government a liberal appropriation, the sum to be given up wholly to the entertainment of guests from France, Great Britain and Canada. Vermont ought to do as much, in proportion, and it is to be hoped that the incoming legislature will show a wise generosity.—Burlington News.

MILK IS CLEANER.

Laboratory Officials Say That Samples Submitted Are Improving in Quality.

Burlington, Sept. 25.—Milk from different parts of the state is being continuously sent to the state laboratory of hygiene in this city analyzed and as a rule most of the samples submitted are improving in cleanliness. Milk from many of the outside cities and towns was found to be abnormally dirty during the early summer, but, thanks to the members of the state board of health and the state laboratory officials things are improving. Milk now being submitted is much cleaner than formerly, but there is still room for improvement in some quarters. Samples milked at the same time, taken from the dairy and arriving at the laboratory at the same time show marked differences. Some of the samples are very sour, some sour and others perfectly sweet. This is caused, no doubt, by the neglect of the dairymen themselves, in neglecting to properly cool the milk after milking. Besides keeping the milk clean, the dairymen should see that the milk is properly cooled directly after leaving the stables, otherwise the germs will multiply in tenfold numbers and the product will sour quickly.

LIQUOR CASE DECIDED.

Proprietor of Brandon Inn Wins in All Points at Issue.

Rutland, Sept. 25.—In Rutland county court yesterday a liquor case of unusual interest and having several new features in Rutland county was decided. About a month ago officers raided the Brandon inn, conducted by W. H. Dunn, who, it was claimed, sold liquor illegally because the cafe was not on the principal street and was connected with the hotel. It was also claimed that the proprietor was not a legal voter in Brandon. All points were decided in favor of Mr. Dunn and may reopen his cafe at any time.

WOODBURY GRAY GRANITE.

Chosen For New Post Office Building at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Hardwick, Sept. 25.—Once more Woodbury gray granite has been recognized as a standard building material. This time it is accepted by the United States government for the new postoffice at Grand Rapids, Mich. The contract price is close to $250,000, and the Woodbury Granite company of Hardwick has been awarded the contract to cut, carve, deliver and set all the granite work required for the exterior of the building.

The design of the building is in keeping with the new form of post office architecture that has been developed by James Knox Taylor supervising architect for the United States government, in which a dignified, pleasing exterior is combined with a very practical interior plan.

The building consists of a basement and three stories. Its outer dimensions are 185 feet by 125 feet. The basement will be devoted to the necessary boiler and machine equipment and storage rooms. On the first floor are the offices of the postmaster and his assistants together with the mail handling rooms, mailing platform and the public lobbies. The second floor is designed to accommodate the District and Circuit court officials together with two court rooms. The third floor is given up to the weather bureau, the internal revenue office and the jury rooms.

The exterior of the building is simple but imposing in design. The granite work is carried to the second story level with plain restoration. The upper story windows are flanked by granite columns set in the wall and capped with panels. At the corner windows there are elaborate pediments. The award of this contract of the Woodbury Granite company means continuous employment at the local sheds for three months to come.

FOREST FIRE CONTROLLED.

Thousands of Dollars Damage in Vicinity of Jonesville.

Jonesville, Sept. 25.—The forest fire that has been raging on the wooded hills in the towns of Jonesville, Bolton and Richmond, was put under control yesterday. About 300 acres have been cut down to the bare ledges. The loss of valuable timber is estimated in the thousands. The heaviest losses were sustained by W. G. White of Richmond, Mrs. Jessie Norton of Huntington, A. E. Crandall of Richmond, A. J. Crandall of Huntington and F. A. Jewett of Bolton.

Over 100 men were engaged in digging a trench around the burning district, farmers and lumbermen volunteering to work from three towns. Today the burned district was a glowing mass of embers and only one small blaze was seen to break out, which was quickly extinguished. If no wind arises the burned district will be under complete control.
